

MR. PRESTON

THE DOORMAN

“There’s always a reason for kindness.”

MOLLY GRAY

A MAID

“I’m the one who cleans your hotel room, who enters like a phantom when you’re out gallivanting for the day, no care at all about what you’ve left behind, the mess, or what I might see when you’re gone.”

GRAN

MOLLY’S GRANDMOTHER

Died nine months ago but never forgotten.

“When you believe in yourself, nothing can stop you.”

CHERYL GREEN

THE HEAD MAID

Molly’s supervisor, nickname: “Chernobyl”

She steals from others for one reason only—to better herself at the expense of others.

CHARLES BLACK

A REAL ESTATE TYCOON . . .

. . . and a hotel guest, who Molly finds “very dead in his bed.”

GISELLE

MR. BLACK’S SECOND WIFE (AND COUNTING)

Oft-described as “a young, lithe, trophy socialite.”

But she is so much more.

RODNEY STILES

THE HEAD BARTENDER

“This part’s a secret, Molly.

Are you good at keeping secrets?”

DETECTIVE STARK

“You can hide dirt for a while, but at some point, it all comes to the surface.”

SOME OTHERS

ALEXANDER SNOW:
THE HOTEL MANAGER

SUNSHINE & SUNITHA:
OTHER MAIDS

The 8 "CLUE" - like cards above were copied from the back of the Kindle version of the book.